

Righetti, Florence

Florence Righetti July 23-45

Florence Righetti, who enlisted in the navy nurse corps seven months ago and received her commission as ensign shortly afterward is now stationed at the U. S. naval hospital in Corona, California. This hospital is one of the most beautiful in southern California. Ensign Righetti is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Righetti, of Wilson district. Previous to her entrance in the navy she was employed at the Saint Francis hospital in San Francisco. During one of her recent liberties, she visited with her school chum, Mrs. Charles McKenna (nee Rose Rodgers) of San Diego.

Ensign Florence Righetti, of the navy nurse corps, flew home for the second time to visit with her parents and friends here. She was accompanied by Edward M. Todd, of the U. S. naval air base at Los Alamitos. She is stationed at the naval hospital at Corona, California, and at present is in charge of a rheumatic fever ward. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Righetti, of Wilson district. Ensign Righetti and Todd also spent some time at San Francisco where they visited friends at her former place of employment, the St. Francis hospital.

ENSIGN FLORENCE RIGHETTI AND NAVY MAN ARE MARRIED AT DOUBLE RING CEREMONY

12/27/45

Ensign Florence Agnes Righetti, of the Corona Naval hospital, and Edward Mix Todd, aviation machinist mate, second class, were united in marriage at a double ring ceremony that took place in the First Presbyterian church of Petaluma on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The marriage lines were read by Rev. F. L. Raney.

The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums, holly berries and Christmas greenery for the wedding that was a culmination of a navy romance. The bride was radiant as she proceeded down the aisle at the arm of her father. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, bouvardia and white carnations, tied with white satin and lace ribbons. Both the bride and her attendant were attired in navy uniform.

The bridesmaid, Ensign Jeanne Bruno, carried a bouquet of pink roses. The best man was Sgt. Arnold Righetti, brother of the bride, who recently returned from overseas. The groom and the best man were in military uniform.

The wedding rings, exchanged by the young couple as they plighted their troth, were of platinum. The engagement ring, that the young man placed on the significant finger of his bride-to-be recently, was set with five diamonds, one large and four small ones.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Righetti chose a blue suit with a corsage of white gardenias.

After the ceremony relatives and friends attended a dinner and reception at the Hotel Petaluma, where toasts were given for the bridal pair. Guido Boccioni, a friend of the Righetti family, favored the guests with many favorite accordion numbers.

When the newly-weds left for their honeymoon, the new Mrs. Todd wore a corsage of white orchids with her naval uniform. They spent a short honeymoon in San Francisco before returning to the home of the bride's parents for Christmas. Both Mr. and Mrs. Todd expect to be released from the service in January and plan to go to New York to visit the groom's father and two married sisters.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Righetti, of Two Rock highway, in Wilson district. She is the sister of Francis Righetti, Tomales; Arnold, who returned last week from Camp Beale with his army discharge, after three years of service; Ben, of Petaluma, Mrs. Edwin Byrnes, Valley Ford, and Joe Righetti, San Francisco.

The new Mrs. Todd enlisted in the navy last January and has been stationed at the Corona Naval hospital, in Los Angeles county. Ensign Jeanne Bruno is from Wakefield, Michigan, and is associated with the bride at the hospital.

The groom is the son of Howard Todd of Argyle, New York. He has been in the service more than three years. He was in five Pacific campaigns, including Palieu, Saipan and Leyte. He was on the aircraft carrier Gambier Bay when it was sunk. At present he is stationed at Los Alamitos navy air-base.

Joe Righetti drove the members of the wedding party to San Francisco after their Christmas visit so they could catch a train to the southern part of the state as the bride and Ensign Bruno had to report for duty at the hospital on Wednesday.
